Security Advisory

April 15th, 2016

FireEye was alerted of a potential security issue impacting the FireEye website. The below issue was fixed and no further user action is required. We appreciate the effort of security researchers and the research community.

FireEye Label: FireEye Website Susceptible to Clickjacking
Credit: Ali Kahn, Karl Aparece, Prayas Kulshrestha
Severity: Low
Products Affected: FireEye Website
Description: A vulnerability existed within the FireEye website allowing an attacker to manipulate a web user into clicking on a different website than what the web user expected.

Version and Fix Details:

Service	Version Released	Date Released	User Actions Required
FireEye Website	Current	3/15/2016	None

Revision history:

Version	Date
V1	04/15/2016

For further information, contact FireEye Customer Support.

http://www.fireeye.com/support/contact-customer-support.html

To report vulnerabilities in FireEye products or Services, please send an email to security[at]FireEye.com.